BRIEF ABSTRACT OF LETTER.

Recommends with refce to G.O no: 3172-3 S / med 53-11-2 of 2.11.11 that S.R. Narasimhangar entertained as a Sub Asst Surgeon, 1st class on probation for 3 years be confirmed in his appointment with effect from 1.12., the period of probation being reduced by one year for reasons stated.

NOTES AND ORDERS.

though, according to G.O no: 3172-3 S / med 53-11-2 of 2.11.11 Narasimhangar was not strictly qualified for appointment as a Sub Asst Surgeon, 1st class to start with, his appointment as such was approved by Govt in view of the fact that the Senior Surgeon could not perhaps secure the services of better men

However, as he has been allowed to continue there these years & there is nothing specific by way of a charge against him, he must be continued to be allowed to continue. He is perhaps not worse than most of the Medical College medical students now in service. He would however be transferred from the Stores & posts to some other unofficial position unless he secures by connection with the Home reforms of the St. Lyon

Sir,

With reference to Government Order No.3172-3 Med 53-11-2, dated, 2-11-11, sanctioning the appointment, (among others) of S.R Narasimiengar, as 1st Class Sub Assistant Surgeon on probation for 3 years, I have the honor to state as follows -

2. The Sub Assistant Surgeon joined Service on the 9th November 1911 and has therefore been on probation for a little over 2 years. During this time, he has rendered very satisfactory service and in professional knowledge I find that he is in no way inferior to the men passed out of the National College, Calcutta, whom we have been recently taking into the Service and some of whom have been confirmed after a much shorter period of probation. The place which he now occupies in the Medical Stores, was, as I know, held by unqualified men of a much inferior sort for a long time. Narasimiengar has completed the regular course of studies for the L.M & S., degree at the Grant Medical College, Bombay, and is an intelligent young man with active habits and I am satisfied that

Sir,

With reference to your letter No.7525/Med.26-1 Dated the 4th February 1914, I have the honor to state that S. R. Narasimiengar does not possess any qualifications. Whatever reasons there might have been in 1892 and 1898 for taking unqualified hands into the service, such reasons do not exist now. It was only in December last that 4 Medical Graduates of the Bombay University (and in 1912, three of the Madras University) were entertained as Sub Assistant Surgeons 1st class, on probation for six months.

2. That no distinction should be made between unqualified men and these University graduates, does not seem to be proper. The latter have a just cause of grievance and I fully sympathise with them.

3. As Narasimiengar does not hold either a Medical Degree or a College Diploma qualifying him to practise medicine, he cannot be posted to a place where he may be called upon to treat the sick, nor does it seem desirable to continue him in the Medical Stores as he owns a private medical shop.

4. I submit the case for the orders of Government
